

END TARIFF DEBATE WITHIN THREE DAYS

UNDERWOOD BILL WILL PASS HOUSE AND GO TO SENATE DURING FIRST WEEK IN MAY

DEFENDS PAYNE LAW

Congressman Moore in Novel Attack On Democratic Bill Praises Latest Republican Measure

Washington, April 25.—With only three more days left for general debate on the Underwood tariff bill in the house the prospect today was that the measure would pass the house and go to the senate during the first week of May.

The original estimate of fifty hours' debate made by the house leaders will be cut down considerably. Two days having passed without night sessions, Representative Moore of Pennsylvania introduced a novelty and for the first time in the history of congress so far as known, a speech on the tariff was delivered by reading of questions from the speaker's rostrum and the delivery of replies from the floor.

Questions and Answers.

"When was the first tariff act passed?" asked the clerk.

"The first act passed was a tariff act," replied Mr. Moore. "It was approved by President Washington, July 4, 1789 and was regarded as an American declaration of commercial independence."

"What do you mean by the Underwood Bill?" quizzed the clerk.

"The bill introduced by Chairman Underwood, the exponent in the house of the theories of President Wilson," was the reply and so the questions and answers run on.

Defends Payne Law.

Mr. Moore charged the democrats with continually misrepresenting the tariff legislation declared the present Payne tariff law revised downward and when the clerk asked why people complained if they enjoyed such wonderful progress, Mr. Moore replied:

"They listened to ambitious politicians, agitators without conscience, journalistic organs with axes to grind, magazines seeking pap, essayists, who found it more convenient to write fiction than to work, theoretical college professors, non-producers generally and a few sincere reformers usually mislabeled and frequently misled."

Praises Underwood Bill.

Representative Palmer declared the Underwood bill if enacted into law would remain on the statute books for years to come a happy solution of a long vexed question.

"It must," he said, "have the united support of the political party which is responsible for it and it must permit American industry to proceed towards the capture of a larger share of the world's markets without causing an embarrassment sufficient to bring distress to any large body of our people."

He expressed confidence that both of these results would follow, but continued:

"If it should turn out that the Underwood law shall be so weakly nourished in the confidence of the people; that it falls to survive the great test of the next popular election; our wasted efforts will be a small burden for us."

Effect of Tariff.

Through Ambassador Jusserand here the French government has called the attention of the state department to the probable effect upon existing treaties of the new tariff bill. Anxiety has been caused in France by several of the administrative clauses of the new bill especially those obliging merchants to show their books and papers. In France a decision of a tribunal is indispensable to compel many to do so. The clause in favor of American shipping also is a source of apprehension. It is pointed out to the state department that such rules had been abolished in France as elsewhere as entailing retaliation.

ASSEMBLY AGAINST MEASURE TO ALLOW OLD AGE PENSIONS

Bill Considered to Be Anti-Union Labor Measure Finds Scattering Support.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., April 25.—The assembly last night frowned upon what was interpreted as an anti-union labor measure when by a vote of 69 to 18 it killed the Bosshard bill providing that corporations may institute a pension system for employees reaching old age. Senator Bosshard himself was quoted as having withdrawn his support for the bill, which came to the assembly without recommendation from the assembly judiciary committee.

Assemblyman Hood, a member of the committee who voted against concurrence, began the attack, and was followed by Assemblyman Anderson, who called it one of the most reactionary and vicious measures ever before the legislature. In big corporations like the United States Steel corporation and the Allis-Chalmers company, said Senator Bosshard, the pensioning of old employees is done to prevent strikes. Assemblyman Mahon inquired whether the Chicago & Northwestern pensioning system was not beneficial. Anderson drew a distinction between corporations. He then read a telegram from Frank Morrison of the American Federation of Labor, saying that the federation would stand only for pensions for the state for employees. Anderson declared the bill was an attempt by employers to get legal sanction for a system by which they might subjugate union labor. He recalled that only large employers appeared for the bill in the committee. Assemblyman Hedding said its adoption was optional.

Assemblyman Vint said:

"Labor wants old age pensions, but labor wants its rights preserved. If under a pension system they dared to strike, they would lose all they ever put into the pension fund."

Minkley objected to labeling as "progressive" measures which he deemed to be reactionary.

Assemblyman Bowe declared the bill was the nearest approach to old age pensions the state has, and if corporations desired to take care of their old employees they ought to be allowed to do so. The bill had been introduced in the best of faith.

The vote was advanced to a third reading and was as follows:

For the bill—Bowe, Chinnock, Dietrich (Aug.), Dietrich (J.), Dolan, Gannon, Grimsrud, Hamata, Hedding, Hinkel, Laursen, Litzka, Mahon, Nye, O'Day, Scanlan, Schnitzler, Smart—18.

Paired—Peavey for, Anderson against.

Compensation Act Amendment.

Madison, Wis., April 25.—By an unanimous report the committee on labor has reported the Bingham bill, to amend the workmen's compensation law, for passage. This bill wipes out the defense of contributory negligence, it places every employer of labor under the law unless he shall elect to stay out, and fixes specific amounts for certain injuries. This is the bill advocated by the industrial commission. When the measure was up for consideration, before the committee, there was considerable opposition to wiping out the contributory negligence clause. Chairman Crownhart of the commission said that this amendment would materially strengthen the law and would drive out practically all employers of labor under it.

By unanimous vote the committee recommended for indefinite postponement the Hawn bill, giving the industrial commission power to enforce the excise law in any city where a complaint was made that the state excise laws were not being obeyed. A hearing upon this bill was given last Tuesday. Assemblyman Hawn claimed that in many cities proper attention was not given by the local authorities to the enforcement of the present liquor laws on the statute books. He made specific mention of the utter disregard with which some cities permitted violations of the Sunday closing law. Both of these bills will be on the calendar for consideration next Tuesday.

CHANGE IN AMENDING CLAUSE IS OPPOSED

Husting Resolution Has Both Friends And Enemies Before Judiciary Committee.

Madison, April 25.—Opposition to the Hustung resolution to amend the state constitution so as to permit a change in the constitution by the passage of a resolution by a two-thirds vote of both houses of the legislature and a submission to the people, developed yesterday afternoon at the hearing before the assembly judiciary committee. Senator Hustung spoke in favor of his resolution. He said that under the present system one legislative would pass a joint resolution to change the constitution, relying on the fact that the next legislature would correct the mistake. The next legislature he said would pass the joint resolution because the first legislature had passed it. He believed that with a two-thirds vote of the legislature there would be an indication of a demand for this constitutional change.

Judge Paul D. Carpenter of Milwaukee was opposed to the resolution. He said that the legislature would pass hastily on it and it would be submitted to the people with no mature consideration. He declared that the amendments that the people were not fully advised as to the good to be accomplished if the amendment were adopted.

Senator Huber appeared before the judiciary committee and advocated the passage of his bill which permits Judge O'Neill to hold court in Sauk county. The original bill was to attach Sauk county to this circuit, but the lawyers of Baraboo objected to this, claiming that it would keep them too far away from the judge.

Senator Linley advocated the passage of the bill, which will permit the perfecting of appeal to the supreme court in a more expeditious manner. His bill would wipe out many of the present technicalities now required in the making of an appeal, and would give the supreme court broader latitude in many cases.

COMMITTEE FAVORS RECALL ON MEMBERS STATE COMMISSIONS

Kill Bill Providing That Delegates to National Conventions Shall Keep Party Pledge—Other Legislative Matters.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, April 25.—The committee on education voted to recommend passage for the Vint bill for recall of members of important state commissions.

Assemblyman Everett's bill providing that delegates to national conventions shall keep the pledge upon which they were elected and that their expenses incident to attending must be paid by the state was recommended for indefinite postponement, the committee figuring it would cost the state $50,000 to send delegates to all national party conventions.

The Axel Johnson bill making provision for a new party getting on the ballot at any election was favorably reported.

Police Chiefs Protest

The bill to abrogate the provisions of the present law which permits police officers to be selected by civil service was opposed by chiefs of police before the assembly committee on municipalities yesterday afternoon. The bill proposes to give the power to the mayor in cities of the second and third and fourth class. The measure was opposed by Henry C. Baker, chief of police at Racine and by Thomas Shaughnessy, chief of police at Madison. Both men claimed that it would put the departments out of touch with the chief and would rob them of the control they should have.

Before the same committee Assistant City Attorney W. H. Timlin and Alderman Schwelke appeared in advocacy of the bill extending the term of mayor and city officials to four years. Both men claimed that a new administration could only get things well started when another election would be upon them. Letters were read to the committee from all parts of the country in favor of the four year term for city officials. Chief Janssen of Milwaukee spoke briefly on the Milwaukee police pension bill which permits the chief to compel those on the pension list to do light work about the station.

State Dairy Commission

William George Bruce, secretary of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association, advocated the passage of the Kellogg bill for the establishment of a state dairy exposition before the joint committee on finance yesterday afternoon. The bill calls for an appropriation of $100,000. A similar measure has already been killed in the house. Under the terms of the bill an annual dairy exposition is to be held in some city of the state. Bruce advocated its passage on the ground that such an annual meeting would aid in the development of the dairy industry of the state.

This afternoon there will be a joint hearing on all of the water power bills before joint committees of the senate and house. The principal measure under discussion will be the bill recently introduced by the special committee on conservation of the senate.

Bills Become Laws

The force of law was given last night to Assemblyman Everett's bill prohibiting the use of nets for trapping fish within one-third of a mile of any harbor, pier or breakwater or any part of the shores of Lake Michigan adjacent to Racine and Kenosha counties. The bill received official publication.

Publication was also given the Gannon bill authorizing county boards to employ visiting nurses; and bills authorizing cities to build and maintain auditoriums, theatres, public buildings, etc.; providing standard rules for the sale of cotton duck or canvas or article the towns of Wilson and Murray in Rusk county; and defining the term "night-time" when used in legal instruments as meaning the time between one hour after the setting of the sun on one day and one hour before the rising of the sun on the following day.

Some of the trade unions ordered their men to begin today, others tomorrow and still others on Monday next, while a few are determined to remain out until May 1.

All Discharged.

Disagreeable surprises met the hands who have struck at factories in the suburbs of Brussels when they appeared today to recommence work. All the old employees were refused admission and told they were discharged.

STATE REFERENDUM ON SUFFRAGE ISSUE AT NEXT ELECTION

Resolution Advanced to Third Reading in Assembly After a Vigorous Opposition.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Madison, Wis., April 25.—The assembly's vote of 51 to 34 on woman's suffrage, by which last night it advanced the Glenn bill to third reading after it had passed the senate, practically assures another state referendum on the question to be held next year. In the debate Assemblyman Minkley, socialist, entertained the large assemblage with facetious references to the division in third party ranks over this question. Assemblyman Mahon, feeling they were intended largely for him, announced that he was not on "ally of the brewers."

Takes Mahon to Task.

Assemblyman Minkley chided Mr. Mahon, who had been affiliated with the progressive party, for changing his vote from that two years ago, and mentioning the party's adoption of equal suffrage as a precedent. He told Mr. Mahon that in view of the 90,000 majority against suffrage in Wisconsin last fall he needed no more convincing evidence of the spirit of Wisconsin voters on this question.

The bill was supported in debate by Assemblyman Axel Johnson, C. D. Hawn, Don C. Hall, Hudson Hall and Speaker Hull, all of whom declared that a body of men that had gone on record strongly as favoring the initiative and referendum would not be content in refusing to allow a referendum on this question. Assemblyman Bartingale said he had always opposed woman's suffrage, but because of the referendum feature he would vote for the bill. Judson Hall, calling up recollections of the morning's clash over excise matters, said he would vote for this bill to prove he was not an "ally of the brewers."

Roethe Leads "Antis."

Roethe bore the burden of the "anti" debate, and was supported by Assemblyman Hansen of Manitowish, who expressed wonder over Theodore Roosevelt's change of opinion on the subject since his first presidential campaign.

The vote was as follows:

Against—Bowe, Clancy, Conway, Dietrich (Aug.), Dietrich (J.), Estabrook, Gudrick, Grimsrud, Hamata, Hedding, Hinkel, Hood, Hoverson, Kuehn, Lentz, Litzka, Mahon, Manning, O'Connor, O'Day, Ott, Paul, Ringle, Roessler, Roethe, Scanlan, Schindler, Schmitt, Smart, Stewart (T. MISSISSIPPI RIVER IN DANGEROUS MOOD THROUGH LOUISIANA

Threaten to Destroy Valuable Property in Most Noted of Creole State's Plantations.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New Orleans, April 25.—After a desperate all night fight an army of 2,000 men had strengthened the main levee at Remy so that it held out against the threatened Mississippi flood tide this morning. A driving rain storm pelted the weakened embankment throughout the night, but hundreds of bags of sand kept back the river.

If the levee should break the town of Lusher and scores of villages would be flooded and the waters would sweep southward back of the levee to within a few miles of the New Orleans protection dikes.

In the parishes of St. James and St. John the Baptist, fine rice and pecan tobacco plantations would be flooded and the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley railroad between New Orleans and Baton Rouge put out of commission. The situation at Remy is still considered critical. All persons to the south were warned to flee by horsemen who started out soon after midnight. Life loss, if the levee should break, would be negligible, but the property damage would mount into the millions.

At Melville.

Melville, La., April 25.—The main levee of the east bank of the Atchafalaya river, just north of Krotz Springs, gave way today. This crevice will flood parts of Point Coupee and Iberville parishes.

The Frisco railroad, between Baton Rouge and Opelousas, and the Southern Pacific branch between Baton Rouge and Lafayette will be cut by the flood waters and the Texas and Pacific between Plaquemine and Melville will be endangered. Several towns probably will be inundated.

The crevice at Krotz Springs is expected to relieve all danger of flooding Melville and other towns on the upper Atchafalaya.

POLICE ARE SEEKING FOR MISSING HEIRESS

Girl Spirited Away From Sanitarium in New Jersey Believed Hidden in New York.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New York, April 25.—The New York police department today officially began a systematic search for Romona Gordon, the 17-year-old daughter of Gail Borden, millionaire milk dealer. Mr. Borden himself asked the police to take up the search and held a long conference with detectives shortly after midnight. Various but vague are the clues to the young woman's whereabouts, reported yesterday after she had returned to the New Jersey sanitarium where she disappeared Thursday afternoon. It now appears that the statement of her return was one of expediency on the part of the sanitarium authorities and it is understood that neither Mr. Borden nor the family physician, nor Mr. Borden's lawyers have the slightest idea where she is. A girl answering in many ways the description of Miss Gordon sailed from New York yesterday on the liner Cincinnati. It is pointed up this clew a wireless message has been sent to the captain of the vessel.

Her capacity is 12,500 tons and she is equipped with devices to facilitate loading and unloading. It is expected she will be able to deliver 300 tons per hour or 75 tons from each hatch in loading. The Nerues will cost $990,000.

EXTEND CONTEST FOR ANOTHER WEEK

TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND CLUB EXTEND BUTTON CONTEST FOR ANOTHER WEEK.

MEET AT THE THEATRE

Moose Band Will Furnish Music and There Will Be Speakers at Organization Meeting on May 6.

At a meeting of the arrangement committee of the new Twenty-five Thousand club, called by Chairman Frank Crook this noon in the offices of Mr. P. Richardson, it was decided to hold the organization meeting of the new club on Tuesday evening May 6th, at the Myers theatre. The Moose band, which donated its services for the recent mass meeting, has again offered its services and a program which will include music, singing and speaking will be arranged for the night. It has been decided to elect nine directors of the new club at this meeting so that the admittance to the gathering will be by membership button. Persons who have no buttons will be able to purchase them at the door at the time of the meeting. However from the rate the contestants are securing members, it is probable the full quota of a thousand will have been secured long before that date.

The pins, for which several ladies who have offered to sell badges for membership, are waiting have not yet arrived, but are expected to arrive Saturday morning. Many buttons have been sold with the understanding that they can be exchanged for pins later.

In view of this the committee has extended the contest for another week closing it May 6th at noon instead of April 9th.

The committee reported that almost all the present supply of membership buttons were now out with lists and that the membership lists are growing rapidly. Several of the contestants have taken out their second papers, which shows the interest displayed in the affair.

TWENTY THOUSAND CASES OF TYPHOID EACH YEAR

Average of Thirty-Five Thousand Deaths Occur Annually from This Cause.—Problem of Sanitation.

Not least among his duties, City Health Officer S. B. Buckmaster places that of public education in matters of sanitation and prevention of disease and the following paragraphs contain data and other information that is well worth pondering over.
There are over 200,000 cases and about 35,000 deaths from typhoid fever in this country each year. In Wisconsin we have an average of over 2,000 cases per year and nearly 350 deaths. Correct sanitation will save this enormous loss, estimated for the entire country at over $75,000,000 annually.

Each day in the year an average of 142 babies are born in Wisconsin. The deaths among children under one year of age averages 15 per day, three-fourths preventable.

The duty of protecting the public health is not the duty of any one man.
During the year 1912 there were 27,127 deaths reported in the state of Wisconsin, making the annual death rate 11.33 per thousand estimated population, a slight decrease from the 1911 record.

NO INDIGESTION, GAS OR A SOUR STOMACH

"Pape's Diapiesin" Stops Fermentation and Makes Your Upset Stomach Feel Fine in Five Minutes.

Wonder what upset your stomach—what portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; your head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acid and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Diapiesin and in five minutes you truly will wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a "bad stomach." A little Diapiesin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.
If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapiesin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

REPORT CONDITION OF BURNED BRIDGE TO CITY OFFICERS

Railway Commission Forwards to Mayor Fathers Copy of Their Engineer's Findings and Suggestions.

Mayor Fathers' this morning received from the railway commission of Wisconsin a copy of the report made to the commission by their engineer, Mr. Harrop, following his inspection of the Milwaukee street bridge on April 11, 12 and 13. According to the report of the examination made on the earlier dates, "Temporary repairs had been carrying traffic at the time of the examination. Considerable time was spent underneath the structure watching the action of the stringers and examining the shimming and repairs on the caps. The floor system under the walk and roadway was comparatively free from vibration under light loads and slow speeds. When horses were trotted over the structure, however, the floor system was subjected to considerable vibration.

"The stringers under the street railway tracks at the seventh and eighth spans, counting from the east end of the bridge, were built up beams. It was noticed that there was considerable vertical and lateral deflection of these stringers under a passing electric car. While it is considered that there is no immediate danger of a failure of these stringers, it was considered wise to replace them by 8"x16" stringers. The above stringers were pointed out to Mr. Harrop, superintendent of the Janesville Street Railway Company, and he was asked to replace the built up members as suggested.

"The following verbal suggestions were made to the mayor on April 17: "That only light traffic be permitted to use the bridge; that automobiles, heavy trucks, etc., be not permitted to use the bridge.

"That speed of all traffic over the structure be slow.

"That signs with the above instructions be placed at each end of the bridge.

"That the Janesville Street Railway Company place 8"x16" stringers under the south rail in the seventh and eighth spans, counting from the east.

"That the caps at the ends of these spans be placed in better condition at time of replacing the stringers.

"That only one street car be allowed on the structure.

"That the Electric Company place an addition strap near the base of its pole located on the south side of the bridge and near its west end. It was further suggested that the pole be guyed to piles near the banks of the river.

"A second examination was made on April 18. Two signs reading 'Autos and Heavy Traffic Excluded from Bridge—No Fast Driving' had been placed at each end of the bridge. The stringers in the seventh and eighth spans had not been replaced and the Electric Company's pole had not been strapped and guyed.

"Before the old bridge can be replaced it will be necessary to draw plans, estimate the cost of the new structure, and then vote on the bond issue. It is therefore apparent that the old bridge will have to carry traffic a considerable period, and since the suggestions are previously noted should be carried out in full.

"In selecting material for the new bridge it would be well to consider that there is still danger of the bridge being destroyed by fire, originating in one of these buildings. It is understood that borings taken at the bridge site show good gravel for foundation. Favorable foundation conditions, low cost of maintenance and ability to withstand fire make concrete a far better material than steel for the proposed structure."

DRY GOODS STORES MAY JOIN GROCERS

Other Merchants of City Asked to Agree on Half Holiday—All But One Grocer Favor Plan.

Janesville dry-goods dealers, hardware store proprietors and all other retail merchants in the city may follow the grocermen in their attempt to agree upon setting aside all Wednesday afternoons from May 7 to September 24 as holidays for themselves and their employees. With one exception all the grocers in the city have given their assent to the proposition. The dealer who yet holds out against his fellows is expected to agree as soon as the other merchants of the city agree to join them. He sells other lines besides groceries and feels that he cannot afford to close while his competitors continue to do business. It may be, however, that action will be taken by the grocers without his support.

The grand circuit will see no free-for-all trots this year. There are only four horses eligible and in condition, and Old Pop Geers is training two of them. Hence, there would be only three starters, too few for the Grand circuit.

Players of the western end of the American League have discovered the way to rattle pitcher Joe Benz of the White Sox. They merely make allusions to his ears, which are not at all small. The fact is that the manager, Calhoun, is thinking of buying Joe a pair of ear-muffs.

President Tom Lynch of the National League wants it understood that there never was a baseball trust. He laughs nervously at the suggestion of a congressional investigation made by Representative Hardwick and Senator Hoke Smith, on account of the Ty Cobb salary dispute. Barney Dreyfuss, owner of the Pittsburgh club, declares that the proposed investigation is merely a political move, with the investigators hoping to make campaign capital out of their actions.

Another stroke of tough luck has hit the pennant aspirations of Manager Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics. Amos Strunk, speedy outfielder, has joined Pitcher John Coombs on the hospital list. Strunk sprained his ankle in a recent game and will be laid up for a short time. In the meantime, Dailley, the Pacific Coast recruit, is taking his place.

Ty Cobb, having kicked up one of the loveliest young baseball controversies on record, seems about ready to be good and settle his salary differences with the Detroit Tigers. Perhaps the sensational showing of Hughie High, who filled in Ty's place and did some exceedingly heavy hitting against the western clubs of the American League, had something to do with it.

Jake Daubert, Brooklyn first baseman, is starting the season as if he intended to end once and for all the discussion as to who might be the greatest first baseman of the game. He has been quite a first baseman in years gone by, but seems to be passing all former bounds this season.

Owen Bush, shortstop for the Detroit Tigers, one of the most sensational fielders baseball has ever seen, is said to have discovered a cure to his bawling weakness against slow ball pitching. He intends to bust every slow ball the pitcher sends over the plate, and depends upon his speed and offside start to beat the throw to first. He isn't worrying about his ability to hit speed and curves.

The New York Yankees have become quite tamed by their new manager, Frank Chance. The Peerless Leader enforces strict discipline, and the players call him Mr. Chance. He believes in the saying "familiarity breeds contempt."

Gentleman Jim Corbett, former heavyweight pugilistic champion, declares that Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, should give up the idea of entering the lightweight class. He opines that there is enough good material coming up among the featherweights to keep Johnny tolerably busy.

A high priced finger of absolute dependability is said to be necessary to keep the New York Yankees from interrupted occupation of last place in the American League this season.

HIGH SCHOOL NINE WILL BE ORGANIZED WITHIN A FEW DAYS

Candidates for Positions Sign Training Pledge at Meeting This Morning—Begin Practice Monday.

The local high school will be represented by a baseball nine this spring. Games will be arranged for the month of May, and in all probability a championship team will be organized. At a special meeting of all candidates held this morning, a petition was signed by the majority present. This petition was more of a pledge, and took in all the necessary requirements which would keep a player in the best of condition, and which would stand against all dissensions. No smoking from the time the team is organized will be allowed, and this pledge holds good until June, the fourteenth. The members present heartily agreed to signing their names to this pledge, and a fine team is expected to be ready within a week.

The men have been practicing a little during the past week, and are in fair condition. There is material for every position, and a lot of it, thus making it possible for Coach Curtis to develop a fast aggregation of baseball men. Perhaps the only difficult position to fill is that of catcher.

There are many good pitchers, among them being Connell, Edler and Ryan. Hemming is a catcher and may try out for the position, although he prefers playing first base. Smiley may develop into a good backstop. Harry Ryan is slated to try for first base, while L. Stewart is out for second base. Edler may cover short as he is most accustomed to this position when not in the pitcher's box. Joe Ryan is a third baseman and a pitcher.

The three outfield positions will also be easy to fill. It is expected that about twenty men will report for the first regular practice on Monday night. It is possible that the Beloit high school nine will be on the local schedule for one and perhaps two games. Edgerton will have a team, and also Milton. The locals hope for five or six games during the month of May, as Prof. Buell believes that after June first, the team should break up, to allow the senior members of the squad to prepare for graduation. The pledge must be lived up to, said Mr. Buell, and the fellows all agreed to live up to it.

Things gained are gone, but great things done endure.—Algernon Swinburne.

LIPTON ANXIOUS FOR WORD OF CHALLENGE

Wants to Know Why New York Yacht Club Delays Answering His Race Challenge.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London, April 25.—Sir Thomas Lipton who has been anxiously awaiting the reply of the New York Yacht club to his challenge for the American cup is somewhat surprised that this consideration by the committee of the American club has been put off for two weeks. He said he quite understood that the usual course was to refer a challenge to the committee of the club, but on the last occasion the committee gathered on the same day as the club meeting was held and the reply was sent that night.

In regard to the report cabled from New York that the New York Yacht club would ask for some further particulars Sir Thomas Lipton said he could not understand what further details were desired as the challenge was drawn on the lines of previous ones which the New York Yacht Club had accepted.

Our Lucid English.
Tell a Harlem girl that she is homely, and even if she is, watch for fire works. But say the same thing to a young woman in England, and she'll thank you for the compliment. The word there has another meaning: a "homely" girl is one who likes domestic surroundings, thereby being a good candidate for matrimony. "Homeliness" has a different effect here when it comes to orange blossoms.—New York Press.

ATHLETIC CARNIVAL ON FRANKLIN FIELD

Annual Relay Races and Field Sports Held Under Auspices of University of Pennsylvania.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Philadelphia, Pa., April 25.—One of the greatest aggregations of college and school athletes ever drawn together in a single meet will compete on Franklin field tomorrow in the nineteenth annual relay races and field sports under the auspices of the University of Pennsylvania. All day today the athletes have been streaming into town. Altogether there are more than 1,600 of them. Among them they represent nearly all of the leading educational institutions of the East, West and part of the South, including universities, colleges, preparatory schools, academies, high schools and grammar schools.

The relay races for the college championships at one, two and four miles are expected to attract the greatest interest. The entries in these events are the best in the history of the games. The Western colleges, especially are better represented than ever before. Michigan will be the most prominent of the Western colleges, though Illinois, Missouri and Notre Dame will have some very good athletes on hand. Chicago, Northwestern, Ohio State and Brigham Young University also figure among the entries from the West.

In addition to the three big relay races for the intercollegiate championship of America, the program provides for a number of class races for one mile, open to minor colleges. The special events will be the same as last year, the 100-yard dash, 120-yard hurdles, broad jump, high jump, hammer throw, shot-put, discus and pole vault.

EVERYTHING DOUBLE EXCEPT THE PRICE

Thin double boning gives twice the strength and greater flexibility than a single boning of equal weight. Double interlining prevents the boning punching through. It strengthens and lengthens the life of the corset. Double side steel gives extra support to the woman who breaks her corsets, and are twice as easy as the ordinary single bone.

Some WARNER Models have the patented "Double Skirt"—the ideal long corset for summer wear—soft and light above the waist, but below the waist an extra layer of strong batiste prevents the lightest corset from ripping.

You can wear the longest skirt, and lace it ever so tightly, and it is comfortable Standing, Sitting or Walking.

BALTIMORE'S LESSON.

Baltimore's demonstration of the fact that it pays to advertise is one of the most striking of the modern day problems that confront cities the country over. Janesville is just awakening from a slumber of years and means to step into the limelight if it is possible. With the organization of the Twenty-five Thousand club, an organization of the people, for the people, and by the people, to promote the interests of the city the first steps in this direction can be taken. The little red button that designates the members of the new club makes all classes fellow-workers for the good of the city.

Baltimore teaches the world and Janesville a lesson. For years this Maryland city stood still as it were. It remained in the same old rut and even dropped back step by step, deeper into the hole of despondency. Now it is on the boom. It is rapidly forging ahead of many of its competitors and all because its awakening has been followed by an expansion and development without parallel in its history. The Christian Science Monitor discusses the problem in the following manner:

"Baltimore four or five years ago was like a merchant who, having packed his store with a stock of goods, and being desirous of selling them, forgot to take down his shutters. The crowds rushed by his closed windows without dreaming that so many good things could be found inside. Baltimore's shutters were up. Suddenly it was decided to take them down. To do this, to interest people who had become somewhat indifferent, to rehabilitate the stock, to re-paint and redecorate, and put the place generally in order, and then to publish to the world that business would be resumed on a different basis; to get the newspapers of the country to talk about the change for the better, to invite excursionists, to accommodate, and entertain conventions, to go in for publicity on a big scale—all this took time and cost money, and doubtless Baltimore wondered often whether it was all worth while."

"It apparently has no doubt on this subject now. When the real change set in it set in very quickly and on a great scale. Baltimore has become a better looking city, a better looking city, a better governed city in the last few years. Its trade has grown immensely. Its industries have increased. It possesses a higher civic spirit. It is apparently on the direct road to the greatness its earlier inhabitants were so certain was in store for it. There is a stronger desire on every side to make it a pleasant home as well as a busy commercial community."

"Baltimore is fulfilling the promises made for it by a disinterested and generous American press on the strength of the splendid work done by its publicity department. And now that Baltimore is doing finely in every particular it should not forget the forces that entered into the doing of it; the forces with which it was wont at times to become impatient, nor should it by any means overlook any possibility of testifying to the fact that it pays to advertise."

BEST FOOT FRONT.

Now is the time for Janesville to put its best foot to the front and present its claims as a location for the Wisconsin State Fair. If it is to be removed from Milwaukee, Governor McGovern has signed the Carpenter bill designed to give cities in the state an opportunity to present their claims and a special committee of nine—six assemblymen and three senators—will visit the various proposed sites and make a report to the legislature within thirty days. Janesville is mentioned as one of the sites to be considered and the committee will doubtless visit this city. Now is the time to present a good front. There is no city in the state that can offer the state as good a site for its fair as Janesville. There is no city in the state that can offer the state as good railroad facilities with which to transport both exhibits and visitors as Janesville, nor as thickly populated a portion of the state to draw its clientele from. As Mr. Richardson stated at the recent mass meeting at the Myers theatre, visitors can come down from Madison by train in the same length of time as it now takes state fair visitors in Milwaukee to go from down town to the fair grounds where they are now located in West Allis. Here is an opportunity for the new Twenty-five Thousand club to get busy and demonstrate what concerted action can do. Every citizen should put their best foot forward and show the special committee what Janesville has to offer.

MADISON'S PLAN.

Since 1900 Madison, the capital of the state, has spent $1,189,522.52 for better streets, improving 33.04 miles, and this year they plan to use approximately $50,250 in the improvements of about one and nine-tenths miles. Madison realizes that good streets are an asset and they go about it in a manner befitting the question. There is no haphazard patching up of old worn-out streets, dumping loads of sand and gravel in holes and leveling it off with a steam roller, only to have it washed out again in a few weeks after hard rains. They build streets that will last. The ancient Romans understood road-building and the necessity of constructing good roads, and some of their main thoroughfares, constructed hundreds of years ago, still stand in fairly good condition. It is time Janesville wakes up and looks to its streets and roads from the surrounding country and sees they are in good condition. It is economy in the end.

Montenegro has captured Scutari and believes that it is the Powers' next move. Perhaps the move will not be satisfactory to King Nicholas.

California bobs up again with the Japanese problem when we all thought it had been settled months ago. Mexico just gets quiet when California steps into the limelight.

The toman is now beginning to take interest in life and plan for his next winter's vacation trip.

Clothing will soon be regarded as a necessary evil.

CAPTURE MOMENT

The Farmer.
Says old man Haskins, with a frown, That there ain't much use in movin' to town, And crowdin' into a four-room flat Where there ain't nuff room to hand yer hat, Where eggs cost about a nickel apiece, And butter is about like axle grease, We gotta admit there's a lot of charm In livin' right out on the good old farm. When the wife and the children want to go, And see a good movin' picture show, When there's showin' a pentickler fancy reel, I kin git 'em there quick in the out-mobility.

The town-folks ain't got nuthin' on us, In spite of all their feathers and fuss. We got good plumbin' all through our place, And fine washstands fer your hands and face, A bathtub, too, we can fill right quick, And we don't have to go jump in the creek. So far as the day's news is concerned, There's durned few things that we haven't learned, About as sudden as one-two-three, Fer we've got a party phone, you see, And we never are late in gettin' our mails, For the rural delivery, it never fails.

We do all the things the city folks do, Our children go to the colleges, too, And there isn't a durned newfangled idee, That we don't grab quick as quick kin be. We've got all the latest in machines, We git all the high-toned magazines, We've got new thoughts in our old tick tanks, And quite a lot of dough in the city banks. When it comes to eats, why, we have to laff, We have got them all skinned by a mile and a half, For "rubes" you can no longer put us down, "Rubes" nowadays are all livin' in town.

Famous Remarks of Auto Bugs.
"Say, when I step on her tail and give this old clump chariot the gas, I go so fast the telephone poles along the side of the road look like a picket fence."
"Oh, I get about nineteen miles out of a gallon on a good road, but mine is the only car in this man's town that will do it."

"Whenever I see a friend on the street I pick him up and give him a ride."

"I haven't got any electric lights, self-starter, cigar lighter, curling irons or fireless cooker in my car, but I have got an engine, believe me. I can go up a hill faster than any other car in this town can go down hill. The last motor cop who chased me didn't look any bigger than a microbe on a flea's hind leg when I looked back three minutes after the race started."

"Notice her take the corners? Some boat, what?"

"You ought to see her when she is running right. The differential is crossed with the brake beam now. That makes the little noise you notice."

"If anybody should come to me right now and offer me $800 more for this wagon than I paid for it I would say: 'Friend, this automobile is not for sale.' Just to show you how much I think of this car, I would rather get stuck in the mud in this car and stay there all day than to ride on a dry pavement in any other car made."

Caught on the Fly.
Kansas City burglars are taking revolvers away from policemen. It is a good thing for policemen that the burglars have no use for the uniforms. Bernard Shaw says he believes in the conversation of laughter. But everybody will always have to laugh when they think of Shaw.

Since the Standard Oil Company was dissolved by court the price of gasoline has advanced three times. Oh, dissolution, where is thy victory? Congressional stenographer says congressmen talk a great deal faster than they used to. Yes, but they don't say any more.

After the ceremony there will be a wedding breakfast and reception at the Meyer home in Scott Circle.

TWO NEW MEXICAN CONVICTS HUNG IN SOCCORRO JAIL

Socorro, N. Mex., April 25.—Irvin Frazer and Francisco Cranado were hanged early today in the Socorro county jail. Frazer was condemned for the killing of Deputy Sheriff Thom as Hall and Al Smithers in a fight with a posse after a jail break at Denning, November 7, 1911. Cranado murdered William S. Clark, a merchant of Magellen in February, 1912, while in the act of robbing him.

Artistic Pottery.
English and American pottery showing the silver deposit work is very pretty. This is newer than the deposit on glass, which has lost its popularity because of its fragility. An invalid would appreciate one of the pottery tea sets, which is so ingeniously fitted together that it takes up only a few inches on the tray. The English ware is either black, white or dark brown in color, while some of the American ware is beautifully shaded in tones of brown.

Explaining the Explanation.
The chemico-physical explanation of the universe goes but a little way. These are the tools of the creative process, but they are not that process, nor its prime cause. Start the flame of life going, and the rest may be explained in terms of chemistry; start the human body developing, and physiological processes explain its growth; but why it becomes a man and not a monkey—what explains that?—John Burroughs, in the Atlantic.

BOHEMIAN GIRL COMPANY PROPERTIES ATTRACTIVE

Public Much Interested in Animals Used in Tonight's Production of Famous Opera.
When the scenery and properties of the Bohemian Girl company, which appears at the Myers theatre this evening, passed through the streets this morning they attracted much attention. The funny little piggy, with his red and white coat, the four hand-home horses and the gypsy caravan property as well as some of the band of gypsies in costume came in for their share of attention. The production is said to be most perfect in every detail and very elaborately staged.

HERMAN DICK BUYS REXFORD PROPERTY

Chicago Man Will Remodel Home on North Washington Street For Summer Home.
Herman Dick, of Chicago, has purchased the Rexford property on North Washington street and will remodel it for a summer home. Mr. Dick and a landscape gardener visited Janesville Thursday to lay the beautiful grounds, some three acres in area, to be tastefully ornamented. Mr. Dick some time ago purchased considerable property adjacent to the Rexford estate, and doubtless this will be included in the decorative scheme for the summer home.

OVER TWENTY CASES ARE LISTED FOR TRIAL IN MAY

Over twenty cases have been listed for trial at the clerk of the court's office for the May term of the circuit court. The time for filing notices does not expire until tomorrow afternoon. Among the action of importance which will appear on the calendar is the $100,000 libel suit of Wallace Ingalls against D. B. Worthington of Beloit and the Janesville recall fight. But nine naturalization cases will come up at this time. These will be disposed of at the session of the court May 5, following the calling of the calendar.

Laymen's Meeting: All former members of the Janesville committee of the Laymen's Missionary Movement and others interested are urged to attend the meeting to be held at the Presbyterian church tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Arrangements will be made to send a deputation to the meeting held in Madison May 4 and 5.

Today's Edgerton News

Edgerton, April 25.—Misses Lulu Schott and Nellie Bradley were visitors in Albion Wednesday evening.

Several parties of fishermen are seen around the banks of the river at Indian Ford. They have all had large catches.

Messrs. and Mesdames Frank Brown and John Mahwinney were in Janesville on business Wednesday.

Lyman Wood has sold his residence on Broadway to Mrs. Parks of Newville. The transaction involved $2000.

Mrs. Lackner has purchased the place which was formerly known as the old Barden place, which has been occupied by Fred Glease.

Emil Roush has purchased the cottage which Mrs. Lackner formerly occupied.

The medals for the high school donated by P. M. Ellingson, A. E. Steward and F. O. Holt have arrived and are ready for distribution. The medal for excellence in declamation was given by P. M. Ellingson and was won by Miss Lulu Schott. The medal for excellence in oratory was given by A. E. Steward and will be given to Clayton Hubbell. The one for excellence in extemporaneous speaking given by F. O. Holt was won by Lowell Whitte. A member of the Junior class. They will be awarded their prizes in a day or two.

Mrs. Henry Johnson entertained the Ladies' Bridge Club at her home on Rollin street Thursday afternoon.

The large silver cup given by T. B. Earle was won by the class of 1914. On the front of the cup the inscription reads as follows: "T. B. Earle cup for excellence in public speaking, 1914. Won by class of 1914." This kind of work has proven a great success, this year and will in all probability be carried out again next year. The medals do not have to be won two years in succession, but are kept by the first winner.

Frank Farman from Stoughton was a caller in Edgerton Thursday.

Misses Alice Nichols and Mary Barrett departed for Chicago Friday on business, and will be gone for several days.

Misses Mary Morrison of Edgerton and Rose of Janesville were Chicago visitors Thursday on business.

The game will be called at 3:45 sharp. This is the first game of the season and the boys need the support of all baseball enthusiasts. The batteries are as follows:

LADY DE CLIFFORD, WHO ROSE FROM SHOW GIRL TO SOCIAL LEADER, TO WED AGAIN

A very quiet but interesting wedding which will take place this month in London is that between Lady de Clifford and Arthur Stock. Lady de Clifford was one of Seymour Hicks' prize beauties, several of whom married peers. Modest and attractive in manner, she captivated the late Baron de Clifford and in 1907 they were married.

For a Heavy Heart.
Set about doing good to somebody, put on your hat, and go visit the sick and poor. Inquire into their wants and minister to them. Seek out the desolate and oppressed. I have often tried this medicine and always find it the best antidote for a heavy heart.—John Howard.

Cruel and Inhuman.
"How dare you advertise that you do painless dentistry?" "Did I hurt you, miss?" "Absolute torture. You talked for five minutes at a time when I couldn't interrupt."—Puck.

NAMED CENSUS HEAD BY THE PRESIDENT

William J. Harris.
The nomination of William J. Harris of Atlanta, Ga., to succeed E. Dana Durand as chief of the U. S. census bureau, has been sent to the senate by President Wilson. Harris was named for the place by Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia. He is one of the best known Democrats in the South and is chairman of the Georgia state Democratic committee. Mr. Harris is also quite well known in Washington, where he served as private secretary to the late Senator A. S. Clay. He is president of a fire insurance company in Atlanta, and is thirty-eight years of age.

Gave Him Away.
Master (who is trying to make a good impression on his strait-faced aunt from whom he has expectations) —"Mary have you seen a letter anywhere about married Private?" Mary —"You mean the one from the man what can't get his money out of you, sir? I put it behind the mirror, sir."—Punch.

Where the Rhine Is Busy.
The traffic on the Rhine between Strasbourg and the Holland frontier amounts to the enormous total of forty million tons annually.

All in a Bunch.
Mary aged 6, was intently watching a very stout woman, a fellow passenger in a street car. The child whispered: "Do you know, grandmother, I think she was meant for twins and never was divided."

CLINTON TO BUILD NEW VILLAGE HALL

The board of trustees expects to rush the matter along now with all possible speed. It is hoped by all that a building will be built that will be a credit to the town and be large enough for our needs.

NO ABSOLUTE RULES FOR BIG CORN YIELD

NOYES RAESSLER TELLS OF
METHODS EMPLOYED IN RAIS-ING CHAMPION '1912
CROPS.

Days Must Do Some Thinking for Themselves in Addition to Applying Any Instructions Given.

Planting Corn to Obtain the Maximum Yield.
(Noyes Raessler.)

There are several methods of planting corn which are employed by not only the champion corn growers of our northern states, but by all of the most successful farmers as well. It is to describe briefly the three most important of these but of course the boys are at liberty to use any method
of planting that they see fit. In fact
I would strongly advise them to consult their fathers along this line as the information they get from this source
will be very valuable.

Years of experience has taught our Rock county farmers, how to get the greatest returns from all the different soils and this experience together with the suggestions given in these corn articles will produce the three most important of these but of course the boys are at liberty to use any method
of planting that they see fit. In fact
I would strongly advise them to consult their fathers along this line as the
information they get from this source
will be very valuable.

If a definite rule could be laid down for every boy to follow, there would be practically nothing for him to do but to go through a series of mechanical operations. Now the purpose of this contest is to teach the boy what can be accomplished by a little thinking. If he solves the problem of obtaining the greatest yield from his one acre of corn he will find it easier to solve some of the greater problems which will come up later in his farm work.

The manner of planting the Minnesota champion acre of corn last year was as follows: Hills four feet apart one way and 3 feet 4 inches the other, dropping four kernels to the hill. The seed was Minnesota No. 13 or Wisconsin
No. 8, purchased from the Minnesota Experiment Station. Yield, 135 14 bushels.

It will be noted that this was pure bred seed, and the variety was well adapted to the locality.

The champion acre of Winnebago county, Ill., just bordering on the south was planted as follows: Hills 16 inches apart and rows 3 feet 8 inches wide. Three kernels were planted in each hill, and these were afterwards thinned down to two stalks after the corn came up. This acre produced 110 bushels, winning the Rockford National Bank prize, and the variety used was Silver King.

I obtained the best yield last year by planting in hills, 3 feet 6 inches apart each way, dropping three kernels to the hill. In this way I obtained 306 bushels of Silver King from a three acre field. It will be remembered, however, that my aim was to produce good seed, not rather than yield. The yield could have been increased very materially by planting the same number of kernels in hills 3 feet 6 inches apart each way.

The latter was the system employed by the champion corn grower of Iowa last year and I will use it on part of my corn this year.

Now a very important thing is to replant the missing hills. No matter how good the seed, nor how well the ground is prepared, it is next to impossible to secure a perfect stand without carefully replanting. The gophers, the squirrels and the crows are usual with us and must be reckoned with.
There is also a possibility of the planter missing a few hills now and then.

If replanting is done immediately after the corn is up, it will ripen up early enough to be harvested along with the rest of the crop, and may perhaps make just enough additional weight to win the championship prize.

WITHIN REACH OF ALL.

Fine Encyclopedia Being Sold by The Gazette.

Comparative few people can afford to buy a cyclopedia, yet everyone who thinks and wants to know the why and the wherefore concerning the thousand and one questions which come up every day, ought to have one.
A hundred dollars, the cost of some of the larger sets of reference works, forces the average man to go to the Public Library, which is not always convenient. The offer which The Gazette is at present making their readers places a cyclopedia within reach of everybody.

Everybody's Cyclopedia, complete in five splendid volumes bound in English cloth, is recognized as easily the best of the smaller reference sets in existence, and it may be secured for exactly $2.35. Quite a difference between this sum and the cost of one of the larger ones, isn't there? Janesville evidently seems to realize this fact, for, judging from the manner in which they are sending in the orders, last year's record sale of dictionaries at 98 cents each is destined to be elipsed.

That the five-volume cyclopedia is eminently worth while is not only the opinion of the editors, but of many of the leading educators of Janesville as well. It has been examined by men in every profession and trade, and in each case the verdict has been favorable.

If orders continue to come in as they have been for the last few days it is probable that the limited stock secured by The Gazette, in order to make the offer, will very shortly be completely exhausted. Therefore, it behooves every procrastinating would-be purchaser to study the offer carefully, in order that he may decide to become the owner of a set of books which has been selling and will sell in the future for $12. It seems probable that enough sets are on hand to last a few days, but only a few days, and the sooner the decision is made the better.

DUNBAR REMEMBERED BY RESIDENTS HERE

Famous Milwaukee Horseman Had Many Friends in Janesville—
Well Known Throughout
State.

Thomas J. Dunbar, who died in Milwaukee yesterday, is well remembered in Janesville and his many friends here are grieved to hear of his demise.
In the days when the Janesville track was in its pristine glory, Mr. Dunbar was a frequent visitor here, his horses raced here and he officiated in many capacities.

Early in 1905 Mr. Dunbar served as an expert as manager of stock farms, breaking and training blooded colts, driving some of the famous horses of past days to their records in exciting and hotly contested races, and as a writer on this subject, during the greater part of his life.

During the civil war, Mr. Dunbar enlisted as a corporal in company F of the Twenty-third Illinois Infantry and was mustered out at Richmond, Va.,
as forage master.

Mr. Dunbar has been identified with the state agricultural society for many years and has been a member of several of the prominent business and social organizations of the city. He was a member of the old Ben Ami club of Milwaukee that long since has been out of existence but contained the names of many prominent citizens of a few years ago.

In late years he served as vice president of the Wisconsin Humane society.
He was also a member of the Milwaukee Athletic club and the Milwaukee Driving club.

For many years Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar lived at Caledonia, Minn. They moved to La Crosse, in 1874 and Milwaukee in 1879. Except for a few years when Mr. Dunbar's business called him to Cleveland, O., and Trenton, N. J., they have maintained their residence in Milwaukee since 1879.

The funeral will be held in Milwaukee at the late residence, 2817 Dunbar place, at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The Rev. C. H. Beale, pastor of the Grand Avenue Congregational church, will officiate.

The pall bearers will be Charles Dean, Fred G. Simmons, W. C. Will-ver, Joseph Birkhauser, J. M. Binney and Edward Johnson, Oconomowoc.
Burial in Forest Home cemetery.

The following is a tribute to Mr.
Dunbar by his old friend, David W.
Watt:

Many Janesville friends were shocked last evening when they read in the Gazette of the death of Thomas J. Dunbar of Milwaukee. Few men were better known than "Tommy" Dunbar, as he was familiarly known by a host of friends all over the northwest, especially among horsemen. Mr. Dunbar was always in his element at the big race meets in Janesville yearly and always with a string of fine horses. Several years ago he went east through what was known as the big circuit and many of the best horses were driven to their best records by Tommy Dunbar.

The writer of this article, campaigned with Tommy Dunbar all through the northwest circuit in the summer and fall of eighteen and secured five of Tommy Dunbar's fine horses. Tommy Dunbar was a high class gentleman and made more friends than any man I ever knew, and it was said of him many times that he never lost one.

Three years ago last September when the Russian style of racing was inaugurated at the state fair, Tommy Dunbar of Milwaukee, Mr. Wilcox of De Pere and myself did the "handicapping" for both the trotting and the pace racing, which came off at the state fair that year. While there were times that Tommy Dunbar and I did not always agree as to how certain horses should be handled, and after talking the matter over Tommy would always smile and say, "Well, you know me. I'm always willing to come half way."

For more than forty years one of Mr. Dunbar's closest friends was the late H. D. McKinney of this city. Mr.
Dunbar was born in Seaford, Connecticut, in 1840 and along early in the seventies moved to La Crosse, Wisconsin, where he resided until 1879 and then moved to Milwaukee and had lived there ever since.

For many years he kept large sale stables and bought and sold many high class horses. His business and his friends were always first class and whenever his services could be secured at the state fair or one of the big race meets you would always see Tommy Dunbar seated in the Judges' stand or the timon's.

For many years he had been closely connected with the humane society in Milwaukee and hundreds of decrepit and wornout horses have been looked after and cared for by Mr.
Dunbar.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar celebrated their golden wedding the 25th of last

Budd. The gypsies, headed by Devils-hoof, appear and attempt to rob Thaddeus, a Polish exile. Thaddeus declines to join the gypsies. Florestein, the count's foppish nephew, returns announcing that Arline has been attacked by a wild animal. Thaddeus rescues her, but refuses the purse the count offers in payment. Thaddeus and Devilshoof are imprisoned as gypsies, and the latter escapes and carries off Arline. In crossing a mountain chasm he is seen to sink through a rotten bridge and disappear.

Act II. Scene 1. Twelve years later: Streets in Pressburg. Tent of the Queen of the Gypsies. Thaddeus keeps watch over the sleeping Arline. Florestein, enters intoxicated and is robed of his possessions by Devilshoof.
The Gypsy Queen compels him to return everything but a medallion which Florestein claims is an heirloom of great value. Arline awakes and tells Thaddeus of her dream of her youth.

He proposes, and they are married by the gypsy ceremony. Scene 2. Another part of the city. Arline sings "Come With the Gypsy Bride." Scene 3. A Fair. Florestein tries to kiss Arline.
She strikes him. The jealous Gypsy Queen gives Arline the medallion, and Arline is accused of robbing Florestein. Florestein and Thaddeus are imprisoned. Scene 4. Count Arneheim's apartments. The count mourns the loss of his daughter. Arline is brought in, and pleads her innocence, but attempts suicide by stabbing herself. By means of a scar the count identifies Arline as his daughter.

Act III. The Count's castle. Devil-shoof and Thaddeus return to try to induce Arline to run away with them.
They are discovered, and Thaddeus reveals himself as a Polish noble. The jealous Gypsy Queen tries to kill Tha-deus but is killed by Devilshoof. The marriage of Thaddeus and Arline is countenanced by the count.

To find the reason why.
The great detective looked fixedly

"Well," he said,
"It was a question."
Great drops of perspiration rolled

"A foot print!" she gasped. "A "Strange! Strange!" muttered the great detective, and thought.

"Ah!" he exclaimed at last. "I have it. Madam, I regret to inform you that when your husband came home last night he was—well, not exactly sober. In retiring he put one shoe on the window sill. In the Heart to Heart Talks. BY JAMES A. EDGERTON.

THE POSTOFFICE. No part of the government comes so close to the people as the postal service.

With the addition of the postal savings bank and the parcel post, its field of usefulness is extended, and its contact is more intimate than before. No doubt the postal telegraph will be added in time; also the weight limit of the parcel post will be increased. All of this is in the hands of the people, and whatever they decree as to this great agency for their convenience will be put into effect.

The postal service is the people's messenger. It carries their tidings each to each.

It is the avenue for the business of a nation, safeguards the people's savings, takes their orders and delivers their goods, keeps them in touch with distant friends and relatives, places the newspaper and magazine at their front doors and is their errand boy.

It is a gigantic business organization as it must needs be to serve 100,000,000 people. It extends over every rail way, stage line, ocean highway and into every hamlet. Through its city and rural carriers it travels every street and road and visits almost every house. It protects the people from frauds and unclean reading matter. If it should cease its activities for one week business would be paralyzed and the average man would be almost completely shut off from the outside world.

All this and more is represented by your letter carrier as he comes to your home each day. His uniform is a badge of useful service. It is not the insignia of death, as that of the soldier, or of coercion, as that of the police. It is rather that of the light bearer. It is honorable, since it belongs to an army that serves over every foot of territory where the flag floats. Its labor is always arduous and its pay relatively small. It travels by every mode of conveyance known to man. Mails are carried by steam ships and steam cars, by aeroplane, pneumatic tube, trolley, stage, wagon, automobile, motorcycle, bicycle, horse back and on foot.

By placing a little label on letter parcel or paper they know a trained army will bear it on its way to any desired point with the least possible delay. They have but to express a wish and pay a pittance and great organizations are at their beck and call.

Of all these agencies the postoffice is perhaps the most universal, least expensive and most helpful.

FAMOUS AMERICAN INDIANS

ALBERT PATSON TERNHUE

LOGAN.

His real name was not Logan, but Tah-gah-jute. He was the son of a famous Cayuga chief and was born about 1725 near the Moravian settlement in Northumberland county, Pennsylvania. His father was the white man's loyal friend and admirer, and not only brought up his boy to reverence and love the colonists, but insisted on giving him an English name. So the youngster was called "John Logan," in honor of William Penn's secretary.

Throughout Pennsylvania, and Virginia as well, young Logan grew to be known and respected. He was pointed out as a proof that Indians could become civilized and could be as brothers to the white man. Logan's fame as a trapper, hunter and trader spread throughout the whole region. His influence with his fellow Indians was great. The Mingoes chose him for their chief. Handsome, of splendid bravery, he was universally liked. During the French and Indian war against the English colonists he did all in his power to curb the local Indians and to bring about peace. In 1770 he built a home for his family and himself on the banks of the Ohio river and made a good living as a fur trader.

Friendship Turned to Hate. Up in 1774 when he was nearly 50—the life of Logan had not been much more noteworthy than that of a New York policeman. Had he died then, his name would now be forgotten. His biography would have held no more or less historical interest than that of any other commonplace, well-behaved man.

But in 1774 there were disturbances between some Ohio river Indians and the frontier settlers. A few lives were lost and a band of white "land jobbers" decided to overawe the savages by a show of severity. These frontiersmen chose the peaceful Logan as an example. They swooped down upon his cabin, destroyed it and killed nearly all the friendly chief's family and near relatives. Logan himself escaped the massacre. But his lifelong love and trust toward the white man was changed in an instant to murderous hate. He took the warpath and attacked every white settlement within reach. In that one wild campaign he, single-handed, killed and scalped no less than 30 persons. He believed—rightly or wrongly—that Capt. Michael Cresap, a frontier celebrity, was leader of the men who murdered his family. And against Cresap he swore horrible vengeance, sending him this note, tied to a blood-stained war club:

"Capt. Cresap: Why did you kill my people? You killed my kin and took my cousin prisoner. Then I thought I must kill, too. I have been three times to war."

The Foe to Mankind. Not content with personal vengeance, Logan is said to have stirred up other Indian tribes against the colonists. At any rate, that same autumn, 1,500 braves sprang to arms and ravaged the surrounding country. A thousand Virginia militiamen were sent against them, and a fierce battle was fought near the mouth of the Great Kanawha river. The Indians were so badly defeated that they begged for peace. Lord Dunmore, colonial governor, sent for their chiefs to come to a conference. Logan alone refused to obey. His brother-in-law, John Gibson, was bidden to fetch him. In answer to the summons, Logan sent the following historic message, which generations of schoolboys have since declaimed:

"I appeal to any white man to say if ever he entered Logan's cabin hungry and he gave him not meat; if ever he came cold and naked and he clothed him not. During the course of the last long and bloody war Logan remained idle in his cabin, an advocate for peace. Such was my love for the whites that my countrymen pointed as they passed and said: 'Logan is the friend of the white man.' I had even thought to have lived with you, but for the injuries of one man. Capt. Cresap, the last spring, in cold blood and unprovoked, murdered all the relations of Logan, not even sparing my women and children. There runs not a drop of my blood in the veins of any living creature. This called on me for revenge. I have sought it. I have killed many. I have glutted my vengeance. For my country I rejoice in the beams of peace. But do not harbor a thought that mine is the joy of fear. Logan never felt fear. He will not turn on his heel to save his life. Who is there to mourn for Logan? Not one!"

Henceforth, Logan became a hopeless drunkard. He gave way to melancholy and to wild fits of temper. In one of these rages, during the summer of 1780, he struck his wife senseless to the ground. Believing he had killed her, he fled. Near Detroit he came upon a party of Indians from his own tribe. He thought they had come to arrest him. So, leaping from his horse, rifle in hand, he swore he would die fighting. He sprang at them before they could explain. In the conflict that followed he was shot dead. In self defense, by a brave named Tadah-dhos—Logan's own nephew.

So perished the ex "friend of the white man." A gentle Indian whom injustice had turned into a wild beast.

DEFENDS UNITED STATES RIGHT TO NAME TERMS. Washington, April 25.—The United States, as owner of the Panama canal has the right to fix such terms as it pleases and the neutrality of the waterways applies to its users only and not the United States. This was the view expressed today by Richard Olney, former secretary of state whose speech was read before a meeting of the American Society of International Law. Mr. Olney did not attend.

COMPANIES THREATEN TO LEAVE MISSOURI

Fire Insurance Fight Promises to be Most Bitter.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) Jefferson City, Mo., April 25.—"The fire insurance companies will not be allowed to leave the state without a fight," said Attorney General Baker today. "I have not decided what action I will take, but as it seems from the reports of their meetings at Pittsburgh yesterday that they are getting ready to try to pull out, I am looking into the law to see what I can do."

The attorney general conferred with Governor Major and Insurance Commissioner Revelle today on the insurance situation.

Eyes and the Brain. With the lower animals there is a pronounced relation between the size of the eyes and the brain. It is claimed by some recent investigators. Even among fishes it is said the more cunning species are those that have large eyes, and upon investigation it was found that the fish with large eyes had larger brains than those with small eyes.

MACHINE MAKES CEMENT

Breaks Furnace Slag Up Into Particles of Different Sizes.

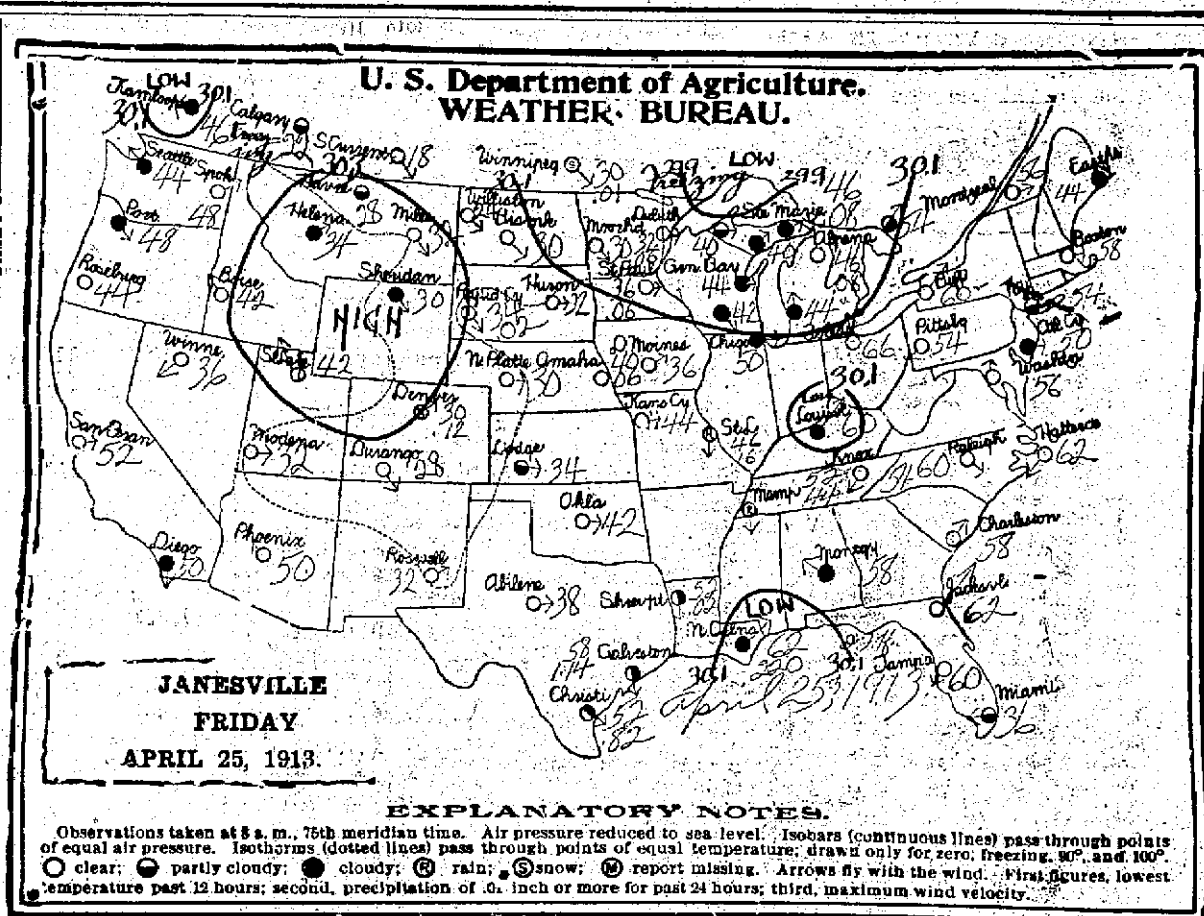

A machine for making cement has been invented by a Canadian and it is thought so well of by a large American cement company that the latter has already bought the patent. The slag moves through a large pipe and is caught down in front of a pulsating jet. This jet disintegrates the slag into particles and the lighter particles are blown against a side wall, from which they drop into a receiving trough below. This method of disintegrating the slag is said to be quicker and more effective than the old means and to produce particles of a more uniform size than when it is broken up by the methods heretofore in practice.

STATE FAIR CLAIMS WILL BE PRESENTED TO COMMITTEE SOON

CARPENTER BILL BECOMES A LAW WITH PUBLICATION
LAST NIGHT.

MAKE VISITS AT ONCE

Janesville is Prominently Mentioned as One of Strongest Contenders.
—Will Outline Advantages.

With the official publication of the Carpenter bill, providing for an investigation of proposed fair sites throughout the state, the measure becomes a law. As a result the Twenty-Five Thousand Club, the Commercial Club and the special state fair committee named by Mayor James A. Fatherson to advance the claims of Janesville for the state fair will at once begin an active and enthusiastic campaign.

Speaker Meritt Hull will appoint six assemblymen and Lieut. Governor Morris will name three senators to form the legislative committee to visit the various sites offered. According to a Madison dispatch received today, the most likely sites are the Fox River valley and the city of Janesville. Madison, Wausau, Grand Rapids and other cities have also put in bids. This statement indicates that the fight is recognized to stand between Janesville and the northern cities, Oshkosh, Green Bay and Fond du Lac.

As between these three cities Janesville's claims are as good as theirs. There is considerable talk to the effect that the Fox river towns will unite to secure the fair for one of their number, but such concerted action has been clearly lacking up to this time and as a result of the three-corned squabble in the north Janesville, with her exceptionally advantages, will have a fine chance to quietly slip in and win the committee's favor.

The visits will be made at once, according to the announcement from Madison, as the law calls for a report to the legislature within thirty days. Chairman C. B. Putnam will call a meeting of the Janesville committee at an early date in order to outline the Janesville campaign. This committee was appointed by Mayor Fatherson at the recent mass meeting at the city hall and is composed as follows: C. S. Putnam, M. P. Richardson, H. H. Bliss, Edw. Amerpohl, W. H. Dougherty, E. E. Van Pool, Jos. Connors, F. P. Croak, Chas. E. Snyder, and G. U. Fisher.

Among the chief advantages which Janesville will have to offer with beautiful and ample grounds, exceptionally situated, unparalleled railroad facilities, a location in the center of the most fertile farming community of the state as well as in the center of population of the northern section which is the most important agricultural area. Other advantages will be added and amplification made of those already mentioned.

INTERURBAN ROAD TO REBALLAST SYSTEM

Will Cost Thirty Thousand Dollars to Complete the Entire Line From Janesville to Rockford.

Work has been commenced by the Rockford & Interurban road of ballasting the entire roadbed between Janesville and Rockford, over 150 men being employed at the present time.

The men are divided into squads of about forty to a party, each group being in charge of a foreman. The work is being personally conducted by Chief Engineer W. S. Hubbard, who spends his time going from one squad to another.

The gravel being used in the work is being hauled from the pits at Rockton, about 500 yards being taken from the pit each day and dumped along the line between South Beloit and Rockford. As the roadbed is being ballasted, the ties and rails are also being replaced where they are found unsound.

At Hinckley, a station north of Roscoe a new steel bridge has been built over the gulley there, and the sharp curve which has always been a bug bear to the motorist, at that point has been changed to a high speed curve.

It is estimated that it will take about four months to complete the work between Rockford and Janesville and that over 75,000 yards of gravel will be used in the work. The probable cost of the new improvements will reach $30,000, the present payroll of the laborers being over $200 per day.

Most of the men employed in doing the ballasting are foreigners, it being almost impossible to secure Americans to do the work though liberal wages are being paid by the road.

Practically all the work that has been done up to the present time has been done between the Shaw farm and Hinckley, but the work will soon be pushed further south until the Rockford outskirts are reached.

Miss Brice, who is the violinist of the Dvorak Trio, studied with Emil Sauret in Chicago for several years, and later included a thorough course under Caesar Thompson at the Belgian school at Brussels. She spent two years concertizing in Boston and other eastern cities on her return.

Style spirit and abundant temperament characterize her playing. Having an attractive and magnetic personality she is essentially a musician who has something to say.

THE way to reckon the cost of painting is to put both costs together—the cost of paint and of putting on. It costs as much to put on one paint as another; if you use as many gallons of one paint as another, the putting-on cost is the same.

But if you use Devco Lead-and-Zinc Paint you'll use less gallons by half or a third. Hundreds of cases prove that Devco requires less gallons than any other paint for the same service.

OVER HALF OF ALL SICKNESS CAUSED BY CLOGGED UP WEAKENED KIDNEYS

Hundreds Are Suffering With Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It. Backache, Bladder Disorder and Rheumatism Are the Result.

It is a well recognized fact among physicians today, that the greater part of all sickness can be avoided by keeping the kidneys working properly. This is even more important than for the bowels to move regularly, because the kidneys and bladder are the filters and sewers of the body. If you suffer with pains in the back or sides, bladder or urinary disorders, lumbago, rheumatism, dizziness, puffy swellings under the eyes or in the feet and ankles, nervousness, tired and worn-out feeling, or any of the many other symptoms of kidney trouble, don't neglect yourself another day and run the risk of serious complications. Secure an original package of Croxone, which costs but a trifle, take three doses a day, for a few days, and you will be surprised how entirely different you will feel. Croxone cures the very worst cases of a law. Mrs. Robb at Durand, the first of the week.

SIDEWALK SKETCHES

P. I. S. T. O. L. S.

By Howard L. Rann.

PISTOLS are a polite form of sudden death which are used to deprive people of their jewelry, breath and other valuable. There are six shots in every pistol, any one of which will prevent the deceased from testifying at the trial of the accused.

Pistols are a polite form of sudden death which are used to deprive people of their jewelry, breath and other valuable. There are six shots in every pistol, any one of which will prevent the deceased from testifying at the trial of the accused.

The toy pistol is a playful form of spontaneous combustion which generally manages to combust on the fourth of July, leaving bandages, splints and other mementos in its wake. Some toy pistols explode with so much zeal that people who look down their throat just before pulling the trigger can hardly tell them from the sudden uprising of a keg of giant powder.
The horse pistol is a murderous weapon which lets go of a bullet as large as a billiard ball. After a midnight war under has received three or four of these bullets into his system, it will begin to dawn upon him that he has been struck by something and he will retire hastily for repairs. The repeating revolver has the largest vocabulary of any of the pistol family, and its conversation consists of sharp, emphatic monosyllables. There would be fewer burglaries in this country if it was generally understood that there was a repeating revolver in every home and a plain, undaunted female immediately behind it.

BY WALT MASON

Oh, what is the profit in sorrow, and what's the advantage of woe? We've troubles today, but tomorrow the most of them surely will go. Say where are the heart-breaking troubles that worried you crazy last year? They floated away like the bubbles, and so will the troubles now here. And where is the bitter affliction that drove from your bosom all hope? It's traveled from your jurisdiction, in vain were the weeps that you wove. It's foolish to hunt grief or borrow, it's naught but a habit of mind; the dawning of every tomorrow leaves yesterday's burden behind. This life has so much that is pleasant, tomorrow's so loaded with joy, the cheap little griefs of the present should fail to distress or annoy. Tomorrow's so pregnant with promise, the outlook's so cheerful and gay, that Richard and Henry and Thomas should pass up the ills of today. Tomorrow is happy and smiling, a goddess bedecked with a wreath; tomorrow is fair and beguiling, so let us quit gnashing our teeth. Let's be like the bygone tomorrows, and wear just such smiles as they wore, and thus we'll discover that sorrow's a snare that no longer can snare.

FOR SALE—LIVE STOCK

WOMAN'S PAGE

Domestic Science DEPARTMENT

CONDUCTED BY Mrs. Alice Mitchell Kirk

mothers who are as keen in progression as many of our younger women, who are perhaps used to conveniences, and grandmother recognizes at once the saying of work and worry in them.

Particularly is this true of the fireless cooker, which six or seven years ago was a new thing in this country. Now it is very generally known and accepted by the live, progressive woman, who is giving it a regular place in her kitchen laboratory.

One day, during a lecture, and demonstration of fireless cooking, a Hungarian woman said:

"We cooked that way fifty years ago in the old country. A pall, with the vessel containing the food set inside of it and with chopped hay packed around it, the food was first cooked over the fire and set into the pall, boiling hot, covered and taken to the field where we were at work. At the proper time it was opened and the food was well cooked and hot."

Yankee Wit Has Perfected Utensils. That "there is nothing new under the sun" is fully proven in this instance. But someone has said:

"It was taken the Yankee wit to bring fireless cooking to perfection."

I called up, over the telephone, a prominent business man whose family uses the fireless cook stove and asked him if his family continued to use the cooker and thought as much of it as ever.

"Oh, yes," he said, "we could not keep house without it. Our cereals are all put into it the night before and we never have had corned beef or ham cooked as perfectly as now in this fireless cook stove, and our gas bills have lessened about 75 percent."

This method of cooking would be of great value to farmers' wives who are dependent upon hot stoves for all their cooking. Much of their food could be prepared in the cool of the morning and they would be relieved from the burden of standing over the hot stove in the middle of the day. This would give them time for rest and recreation. All foods, such as cereals, steamed breads, soups, meats which require slow cooking, such as roast, fricassees or boiling vegetables, plus pudding, etc., can all be cooked to perfection in this fireless cooker.

This question more than any other is asked me: "Is it practical?"

It is if you use it. If you think it is too much trouble and use it for a shirt waist box (as someone suggested when you tire of it, don't attempt it, save your money. The average woman is alert these days for utensils in the home that will do good work and save labor.

This fireless cooker would be a great advantage in the preparation of the Sunday dinner, which so many housewives find burdensome. The time occupied often gives little opportunity for church, rest and recreation, such as other members of the family enjoy. With a fireless cooker the food can all be prepared in the morning or even the night before and placed in the cooker where it will be cooked hot and ready for the table at whatever hour it is desired.

Food cooked in this way will remain hot for many hours if required, and still not become overcooked.

If carefully handled, and the skill required is within the scope of the average housewife, its true value as a time saver and labor saver cannot be overestimated. It is simple, inexpensive, durable, and I believe destined to play an important part in good housekeeping as it becomes more widely known.

Best Qualities of Wood. Unlike most other timbers, the straighter and better formed trees do not yield the most highly prized quality of lumber. It is the crooked, irregular logs that possess the best figured wood. The best qualities of wood are obtained from trees over one hundred years old, which rarely have a clear length of more than 12 feet. The most beautiful grained wood is in the roots and burls.

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

Good fortune is yours and whatever you try to do will be possible for you to accomplish to your satisfaction. If in employ, you will see a chance to make yourself more useful. Some annoyance from writings is indicated.

Those born today will have cheerful dispositions, and will be fond of company, but have steadfast purpose enough to keep them from too much dissipation. They will be successful in all positions where accuracy and executive ability are the first essentials.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

WHATEVER the number of a man's friends, there will be times in his life when he has one too few, but if he has only one enemy he is lucky indeed if he has not one too many.

—Bulwer.

FOOD FOR THE FAMILY TABLE

There is no more appetizing salad than one so simple and easily prepared as shredded cabbage, dressed with cream and sugar, with a little vinegar and a pinch of salt. If sour cream is used one does not need to add as much vinegar.

Old-Fashioned Beans.—Wash and put a pint of beans to soak over night in soft water. In the morning parboil them in fresh water, until tender; drain, and season with a teaspoonful of salt, a half teaspoonful of mustard, a dash of cayenne pepper, two table-spoonfuls of molasses, half a cup of butter and hot water enough to cover the beans. Cover the bean pot and bake five or six hours. Just before serving, beat a fourth of a cup of cream, add two table-spoonfuls of tomato catsup, a teaspoonful of onion juice, use this sauce on each portion of beans, as served.

There is no dessert which is more wholesome for the child than a well-baked apple. Wash and core it, and bake, filling the cavity with sugar. A bit of lemon juice and butter will often improve a flavorless apple.

Economical Fruit Cake.—Take one and a half cups of sour cream, a teaspoonful of soda, half a teaspoonful of salt, two eggs, two cups of sugar, one cup of chopped raisins, citron and nut meats; if desired, a teaspoonful of cinnamon, one-half teaspoon of cloves, one-half teaspoonful of nutmeg, and flour to make a soft batter like ginger bread.

Dr. Barry Soup.—Chop six blanched almonds, a pint of potatoes, two table-spoonfuls of onion, two table-spoonfuls of cooked rice, a teaspoonful of parsley and a teaspoonful of nutmeg. Thicken with a table-spoonful of flour and butter cooked together; add three quarts of stock and cook slowly, two hours. Rub through a sieve; add two cups of hot milk and a table-spoonful of whipped cream for the top of each soup cup or plate.

Put peeled potatoes, through the coarse strainer of the meat chopper, season with onion and salt and fry in a little hot suet until well browned.

Household Hints

Substitute for Cedar Chest.—A grocer's box, or the desired dimensions and enough cigar boxes to line completely. The cigar boxes being of cedar and saturated with the scent of tobacco will keep out moths and all insects.

The box may be painted or covered with wallpaper, or covered with cretonne or burlap, the top padded for a seat and a ruffle tacked around top with brass tacks.

Inside may be lined with cheese cloth.

You can get cigar boxes from any druggist, who throws them away when empty, and they are easily taken apart.

Things Worth Knowing.—Plant onions sets now, six or seven inches deep, instead of just pushing into the ground. See how much more nice white part you will have.

Easy way to wash greens, especially spinach: Put in a little hot water for a minute, long enough to wilt them, and the sand will fall off with half the trouble.

If the boy's cap gets spongy, wet, stuff full of dry newspapers, put to the proper shape, and put where they will dry. When dry you will never know they have been wet.

The Housewife.—Wallpaper Cleaner—This is the finest cleaner I have ever known. In 10 minutes you can make enough to clean a room, and you will be surprised at the good result.

One heaping cup sifted flour, one table-spoon salt, one table-spoon cold oil, two table-spoons vinegar, two table-spoons ammonia, half cup warm water. Mix in small kettle. Boil until flour is well scalded and mixture is used up. Stir continually. Remove from stove and knead with hands until ready for use. Make into balls and rub walls with this.

When ironing skirts, fasten board to table with clamps, such as used with curtain stretchers; it will be firm and you will have nothing in the way to miss up your skirt.

The Table.—New Banana Pie—From necessity this was invented one day. Bake a rich crust, then slice into it two bananas. Make a custard: One egg, one-half cup sugar, vanilla to taste, one cup milk. Cook in double boiler and turn over bananas. Then make same custard, only add one table-spoon cocoa and one table-spoon cornstarch, and turn over the first custard. Ready to serve.

Devil's Food.—First part: Three-fourths cup grated chocolate, three-fourths cup brown sugar, roke one egg, one-half cup sweet milk; cook to thick custard, stirring constantly.

Second part: Cream one cup brown sugar and one-half cup butter, then add one-half cup sweet milk, two eggs, two cups flour; flavor with vanilla; then add custard and one table-spoon soda dissolved in a little hot water. Bake in three layers.

Pressing: One cup granulated

CHATS WITH THINKING WOMEN

by Barbara Boyd

Catering Exclusively for the Husband

"I had a husband," said Phoebe, as she sniffed the spring flowers on the studio table. "I don't think I'd make out the family menu according to his taste, and nobody's else."

"What do you mean?" asked Midge.

"I've been eating at sister's, and she just has what John likes. I must be awful to only what your husband eats. Its equivalent to having no tastes of your own."

"When we sat down to dinner," went on Phoebe. "Sister said, 'John eats so few things, it's awful hard to get up a meal. He doesn't like cabbage or turnips or tomatoes or any kind of salad. And he won't eat cake or pie. I have a terrible time planning a meal.'"

"Don't be the rest of you like these things?" I asked.

"Oh, yes," sister replied. "But it doesn't seem worth while to get them, just for us."

"I looked at the kiddies, and to me they looked hungry for cabbage and turnips and tomatoes and salad, and especially for cake and pie. But they had to eat the stuff their dad liked, regardless of their own preference."

"Now if I were my sister, I'd have the things I and the children liked, quite as often as the ones John liked. I'd make the most scrumptious pies, the kind that makes your mouth water just to look at them. And I'd say how good they were and smack my lips over them. And I'll wager a good deal that, before long, John would be putting away his quarter section and wanting more. It's just a notion some people get that they don't like things. John admitted himself, that he had never tasted cabbage or turnips. He said he had an idea he wouldn't like them and he didn't care to try them. Now think of cutting a whole lot of good things out of the family diet, for such a lack of reason as that."

"I know lots of women who won't have things their husbands don't like," said Midge. "They say, 'What's the use of bothering about it just for me?'"

"It's funny, isn't it?" replied Phoebe. "They'd never think of having just what they like, and letting the husband go without anything if his taste didn't agree with theirs. Not that I approve of this either, I don't think the family fare ought to be limited to the likes or dislikes of any one member. It's a narrow way to live."

The Evening Chat-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

MOTIVES. DID YOU ever happen to consider what widely different motives stand behind our good deeds? Something started this train of thought for me, and it carried me into a very interesting country. At least found it so. Of course tastes differ in mental landscapes as well as material ones.

We are apt to think of an act of charity as a fixed quantity, representing a certain amount of merit. It seems to me in reality that the act itself is only one of the factors.

There are other factors which must be considered in reckoning the final product. And the motive behind the deed is one of the most important.

The lowest motive for charity is that of the Pharisees, who did their alms "to be seen of men." If you multiply any sum, no matter how large, by zero, you still get zero. So it seems to me, that the merit of Pharisaical alms, no matter how lavish, is always zero because the value of one of the factors, the motive, is a cipher.

A dominant idea of the old religion was that, we should be good, because if we weren't we'd be eternally punished for it. Can you see much merit in being good because you are afraid you'll suffer if you aren't? And yet that is the spirit in which many people give alms, because they fear punishment here or hereafter if they withhold them. A man who religiously confessed to me that he didn't like the superstitious motive, and I think it is a little better than the Pharisaical one, but not much.

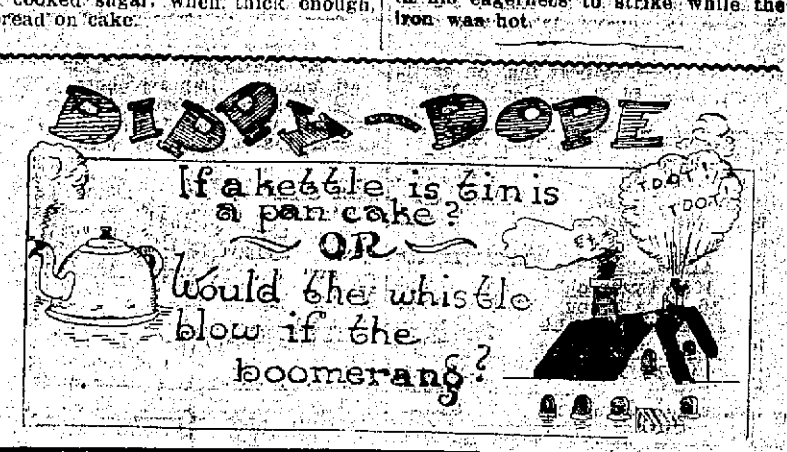

Still others give because they hope to be rewarded for doing so. Some expect an immediate earthly reward in the shape of prosperity and earthly desires fulfilled. Others hope to buy a ticket to heaven with their alms. Does that seem like a satisfactory motive to you? I must say it doesn't quite content me. It is too much like investing money with the expectation of getting very high interest. We deny ourselves pleasures and gratifications in the present day because we believe we shall thereby win for ourselves greater pleasures and gratifications in the eternal tomorrow. And yet, since much of religion is built on just that motive, I don't quite dare cast it.

To be generous toward your fellowmen, because you cannot approve of yourself unless you are, seems to me a really satisfactory motive. There is only one higher, if it is higher, and that is to do things for your fellowmen because you love them and want to help them.

I can't quite decide which of these two motives is the higher. The first involves effort, the second implies a naturally beautiful character. "White the soul without stain or blot who do the will of God and know it not." Perhaps the best way to rank these two is to say that the first is a nobler motive, and the second more beautiful.

From what motive do your kind acts come?

Can Be Too Eager. Many a man has burned his fingers in his eagerness to strike while the iron was hot.

If a kettle is in a pan cake? OR Would the whistle blow if the boomerang?

THE WHOLESOME BAKING POWDER

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

BY MRS. THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I am a boy of sixteen. Is my handwriting good? (2) Am I too young to take a schoolmate to church? I have no father nor mother to advise me. (3) I am going to work on a farm. What wages had I ought to get? (4) What color of suit would be nice for summer wear? (5) I am a girl of fourteen. Am I too young to go to church with a boy two years older than I am? (6) Am I too young to wear a corset? (7) Ought I to go to dances?

BETSY AND DICK.

(1) Yes. (2) No. It would be merely friendly. (3) I do not know the rate of wages. I suppose you should get what every other lad of your age is getting. (4) Blue or a mixed gray. (5) No. (6) Yes, my dear. If you will stand right and exercise properly, you will never need to wear one. The very fashionable people make their dresses now so they do not need to wear corsets. (7) Not so public dances. A private dance, where you know everybody to be respectable, is all right.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I am a girl of sixteen and think I am in love with a boy of fourteen whose initials are R. C. He is a very nice looking boy, but doesn't seem to appreciate my good looks. Can I do anything to gain his affections? He is very smart and surely ought to know a good thing when he sees it, but I am nevertheless without hope. (2) How should a girl of fifteen comb her hair? Should she do it up in "buntings" as the older girls do?

HOPELESS.

My dear little girl, you are rather young to be hopeless. When you are older you will know what a beautiful world this is, full of all kinds of good things besides four teen-year-old boys. The boy is too much if a kid to be thinking of love and he would consider you merely silly if he knew what you were thinking. You aren't really in love, you know. (2) Comb it very simply—in a loose knot at the back of the head with a slight "ompadour" or in two braids twisted about the head.

Doughnuts

That will remain moist.

Every housewife who bakes her own bread knows that a little potato is added to the sponge, the bread will not dry out as quickly. In this recipe potato is utilized to make doughnuts that will remain moist and fresh for several days.

K.C. will be found to have distinct advantages over any other Baking Powder for doughnuts. K.C. is a double acting baking powder with which a large batch of doughnuts may be mixed and fried a few at a time. The last will be as light and nice as the first.

K.C. Potato Doughnuts

By Mrs. Nevada Briggs, of Idaho School, Idaho.

4 cups flour, 2 eggs, 1 cup sugar, 1 level teaspoonful K.C. Baking Powder, 1 level teaspoonful salt, 1 teaspoonful molasses, 1 cup cold mashed potato, 1 cup milk, or more if needed.

Sift three times, the flour, salt, sugar and baking powder. Beat eggs with rotary beater, then still using rotary beater, gradually add sugar, then work in the mashed potato with a spoon and alternately add milk and flour mixture. Make a soft dough, roll into sheets, cut into rounds, pinch a hole in the center with the finger and fry in deep fat.

Fat for frying should not be too rich, enough to brown the doughnut but not burn it. When the doughnut is dropped into the fat, it will sink to the bottom. As soon as it comes up it should be turned and cooked a few minutes while cooking. This recipe is excellent as they do not take oil for frying and will stay moist for days.

Phone The Grocer

Next time you phone the grocer ask him to send you a can of Van Houten's Rona Dutch Cocoa. Then make this simple test:

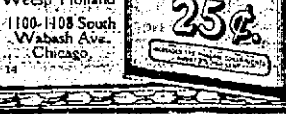

Put only one-half a teaspoonful of Rona into a cup into which you have put one-half the amount of sugar you usually use. Add boiling water and see how Rona Cocoa dissolves instantly. Just get that rich, Dutch, chocolate flavor. Now you can see why excels all domestic Cocos. In the first place, it's more economical—you use only half a teaspoonful to the cup. And then, it's much richer, smoother, finer. That's because of the Dutch process.

VAN HOUTEN'S RONA DUTCH COCOA

Try this nourishing food today. Phone the grocer and make the test.
